Chapter 1: General Order (Name, description, address, logo)

ASPC is a non-profit ASSOCIATION, with public and social interests, which will be governed by these By Laws, the internal regulation codes which may be approved at the General Assembly and also by the applicable state laws.

Adopted at the Paris Forum on August 30, 2011 the new name and abbreviation for the International Association of High Performance Sport Training Centres will now be; The Association of Sport Performance Centres or ASPC.

The ASPC is registered in Spain as the “International Association of High Performance Sport Training Centres”, under the new European Regulations on Personal Data Protection Policies (GDPR).

ASPC physically established its headquarters in Sant Cugat (Barcelona, Spain): Avenida Alcalde Barnils 3-5, Sant Cugat del Vallés (08174, Spain. The change of company headquarters, as the case may be, must be approved at the General Assembly.

The ASPC is the private and representative body for the group of High Performance Sport Centres legally established in each corresponding state, where they hold a legal status and have full capacity to work towards the fulfillment of their goals and to defend their rights, in accordance to the prevailing legal sports law.

The ASPC has its own logo, as shown in the drawing below and also attached to these By Laws, and which may not be used for any commercial purpose outside the ASPC.

Chapter 2: Offices and Registered Structure

Competence

The ASPC will be submitted to the Spanish Regulation Rights, as is on “Ley Orgánica 1/2002, de 22 de marzo, reguladora del Derecho de Asociación”.

Life

The life of the Association of Sport Performance Centres is indefinite.

The financial year will run from the 1st of January to the 31st of December.

Communication Language

The International communication language of the ASPC will be English.

Territorial Domain

The ASPC conducts its main business activities through the respective members of the ASPC on an international basis.

Chapter 3: Mission, Vision and Principles of the ASPC

ASPC Mission: To provide opportunities that enhance training for high performance sport worldwide.

ASPC Vision: ASPC is an active partner with development and leadership of sport training centres, setting the standard in the global high performance training site community.

The Principles of this ASPC are the following:

1. Respecting the Autonomy of each of the high performance sport centres: The basic principle of the ASPC are considered to be the maintenance of the independence, authority and autonomy of each Centre as being the best guarantee of the development of high level sport in the respective countries.

2. Fostering collaboration between all the members:

Respecting the autonomy of each centre, members will collaborate to generate initiatives of benefit to athletes, coaches, sport and the wider community.

They will also collaborate with international organizations and associations able to assist in promoting the implementation of the principles and objectives pursued by this Association.

3. Maintaining an Ethical Approach:

Protection of the rights of high performance athletes and coaches at ASPC member Centres is essential. Specifically, this should focus on their right to train and compete in a fair, ethical, healthy and safe environment.

4. Enhancing Staff Development:

The ASPC members are committed to adding value to the training and development of their staff by providing professional development through staff exchanges.

5. Sharing Information and Knowledge:

ASPC members will share and exchange knowledge and experiences in relation to high performance sport.

6. Identifying Best Practices:

The ASPC will develop concepts of best practices to aid in the advancement of high-performance sport.

7. Supporting the International Forum on Elite Sport:

ASPC members will support the organization of a biennial “International Forum on Elite Sport” as a means of sharing and developing information to advance high performance sport centres.

Chapter 7: Official Bodies and representation entities

Section 1. The Official Bodies and representation entities of the ASPC are:

- a) The General/Extraordinary Assembly.
- b) The Board of Directors.
 - i. President.
 - ii. Secretary General- who is appointed by the Executive Committee from a representative of the ASPC host Centre- Official headquarters which now is San Cugat del Valles / Barcelona Spain.
 - iii. Vice-President

- iv. Treasurer
 - v. Past President – ex officio
 - vi. Continental Vice Presidents (5) – Asia, Americas, Europe, Africa and Oceania
- c) The Executive Committee (President, General Secretary, Vice-President and Treasurer).

A.) General Assembly

The GENERAL ASSEMBLY is the major official body entity of the ASPC, which is composed of all the representatives of the high performance sport centres, governing bodies and individuals officially named. Membership groups A thru C.

Each Organization that is a member will receive 2 votes for their Centre. Each Governing Body or Individual member at the General Assembly will have one vote. Only those members who are present and up to date in terms of fee payment will be able to vote. There is no Proxy vote.

The agreements taken at the Assembly will be approved by simple majority (50 percent plus 1) of the members present, with the exception when these By Laws establish that another type of majority is needed.

The General Assembly must be legally constituted and held annually.

The roles of the General Assembly are the following:

- a) To modify the By Laws.
- b) To approve or ratify the annual program and activity report on the management of the ASPC presented by the Board of Directors to the Assembly.
- c) Vote on proposals put forth by the Board of Directors.
- d) To elect the Executive members of the ASPC (President, Vice-President and Treasurer) and guide their activity, every 2 years during the FORUM.
- e) To ratify the Continental Vice-presidents who will be elected by their own Continental members present at the Forum. In the event of a tie a final determination will be made by the Executive Committee of the ASPC.
- f) To approve or ratify the balance sheet, financial statement and the annual budget presented by the Board of Directors.
- g) To approve the amount of the yearly fee and any extraordinary contributions.
- h) To resolve the termination of the ASPC.
- i) To join other associations or organizations or to terminate relations with them.
- j) To approve an internal regulations code.
- k) To resolve matters not directly assigned to any other sub-committee within the ASPC. The roles listed in this article have an explanatory purpose, and do not limit the ones to be held by the General Assembly.

The Assembly meetings will be called by means of a personal letter or email directed to each member, with a minimum of 60 calendar days in advance of the General Assembly.

The letter or email, will indicate the place, day and hour of the meeting, as well as the meeting's agenda.

B.) The Board of Directors

The Board of Directors is the management and administration entity of the ASPC, and with executive powers to enforce the agreements reached at the General Assembly.

The Board of Directors consists of a President, a Secretary General, a Vice-President and a Treasurer and five Continental Vice-Presidents, plus four additional ex-officio, non-voting members, (the host secretariat representative, the previous Forum representative, the next Forum representative and the Immediate Past President of the ASPC).

The election of the members for the Board of Directors, who must be representatives of the Centre members of the ASPC (Group A), will be put to a vote at the General Assembly. The people elected will start their duties after their approval to their post.

Members wishing to stand for election to a position on the Board of Directors must submit the corresponding nomination form to the Secretariat at least 60 days before the General Assembly.

The members of the Board of Directors cannot hold any paid position within the ASPC.

Dismissal from a post on the Board of Directors before the end of the statutory period can be caused by:

- a) Voluntary resignation, presented in written form with a list of motives.
- b) Violation of ASPC Code of Conduct
- c) Illness, which poses an impediment to fulfill the post.
- d) Disenrollment of their Centre as a member of the ASPC.
- e) Being relieved of the representative post of their Centre.

Any vacant posts that exist on the Board of Directors can be filled by appointment by the current Board of Directors. If the position is of a Continental Vice President the person filling that position must be from that Continent. The position will then be up for election at the next General Assembly.

The Board of Directors has the following roles:

- a) To represent, lead and manage the ASPC, as well as to carry out the agreements taken by the General Assembly.
- b) To propose to the General Assembly the amount of the ordinary and extraordinary fees.
- c) To call the General Assembly meetings.
- d) To present and approve the annual program, activity report and the management of the ASPC to the General Assembly.
- e) To approve and present the balance sheet, financial statement and the annual budget to the General Assembly.
- f) To hire employees for the ASPC.
- g) To monitor the annual budget.
- h) To create working groups to efficiently achieve the Principles of the ASPC, and authorize the actions that these working groups undertake.
- i) To carry out the necessary tasks in relation to civil service offices, other organizations and individuals, in order to achieve:
 - Subsidies or other aid.
 - The use of premises or buildings.
- j) To open a bank account in a credited savings institution and to use the funds deposited in those accounts for ASPC business only.
- k) To temporarily resolve any situation which By Laws have not anticipated, and to report on this at the next General Assembly.
- l) Authority to avail of the revenue obtained and to agree the transfer of entities by means of an agreement recorded in the minutes.
- m) Any other competence which is not explicitly assigned to another governing entity within the ASPC, or competences which have been delegated to the Board of Directors directly.

The Board of Directors will meet in ordinary session twice a year. These meetings can be conducted face to face, electronically or by phone. Should circumstances warrant, and at the discretion of the Board of Directors, a meeting of the membership may be conducted remotely, in whole or in part, via teleconference or videoconference provided reasonable measures are taken to permit all members not physically present to hear and participate in the proceedings concurrently. The Board of Directors shall adopt special rules of order for the conduct of such meetings regarding verifying membership, assignment of the floor and debate, voting, and any other procedures necessary for an orderly meeting. Such rules are to be communicated at the time of the meeting. All other rules regarding meetings of the membership will continue to apply.

The Board of Directors' meeting will be officially constituted if it has been called sufficiently in advance and there is a quorum of 50% plus one of its members.

The members of the Board of Directors must attend all meetings which take place and can only be absent if there is just cause. The attendance of the President or the Secretary General or their acting substitutes is mandatory.

The Board of Directors will approve agreements by simple majority of those present.

The agreements taken in the Board of Directors' meetings must be written down in the minute book, and must be signed by the President and the Secretary General. At the start of every Board meeting, the minutes of the previous meeting must be circulated in advance and approved by the Members.

C.) The President-

- a. Is an A member of the ASPC. Has submitted his or her intention to serve and has completed the ASPC election form correctly.
- b. Is elected by majority vote during the biennial forum by the ASPC membership.
- c. Follows the duties of President as describe in Chapter 8.

Section 5. The duties of the Continental Vice Presidents are as follows:

The Vice-Presidents will improve the regional activity by promoting Principles of the ASPC and membership applications within their Continent.

Chair working groups and spread the good will and work of the ASPC all around their Continent.

Chapter 9: Financial Matters

This ASPC is subject to follow the budget set forth by the Board, with the limitations as set forth in the By Laws of the ASPC.

Section 1. The ASPC obtains funding from:

- a) The yearly fees set by the General Assembly, and paid by each member.
- b) Public or private grants.
- c) Donations, inheritance or legacies.
- d) Any other revenue that is legally authorized.

Section 2. All members of the ASPC must support the ASPC financially, by means of yearly fees, in the form and proportion set by the General Assembly and as proposed by the Board of Directors.

The financial year coincides with the calendar year, and ends on December 31st.

Chapter 10: Jurisdiction

All controversies and discrepancies connected with the goals pursued in these By Laws, excluding ordinary courts, will be subject to The Court of Arbitration for Sport.

Chapter 11: Termination

The ASPC can be terminated if so agreed by the General Assembly, which must be called extraordinarily and expressly for this purpose and is clearly stated on the agenda prior to the meeting. Two-thirds of all members Centres (Category A) must be present for the vote to take place.

The General Assembly is empowered to elect a Termination Committee and apply the necessary rules as follows:

- a) Once the termination is approved, the General Assembly must take the required steps towards the final destination of funds and rights of the ASPC, as well as the finality, finalization and liquidation of any pending operations.
- b) If any funds remain, they will be donated to a non-profit organization in the territorial domain of the ASPC.

The Members of the ASPC are not personally liable. Their liability is limited to carrying out the obligations that they voluntarily agree on.

BRAND IDENTITY V3.0 SEPTEMBER 2016

This document aims to standardize the way each member centre presents our brand.

Everything affects a brand, it's identity and how it is viewed by the world. Everything we do makes an impression, and every impression we make changes the way people think about the Association of Sport Performance Centres. Actively managing the brand's identity is vital. This document is a tool to help you make decisions. But the utility of this tool is finite. These standards cannot possibly address every design situation that may arise. This document merely establishes the groundwork for design execution and strategy.

General referencing

The primary term of reference is the official brand name: Association of Sport Performance Centres (ASPC). In general, use of the acronyms such as ASPC should be avoided in all official correspondence and promotional materials.
