What's top talent and high performance for us?

Where does top expertise come from?

What performance of standards do you set for yourself?

からといつて、なすべきことを急ろ
人の世の中のは、決して成功す
ません。

Were we to neglect
The completion of a task
Because it was hard,
Nothing would be done at all
In this human world of ours.

This waka poem was composed, in the traditional 5-7-5-7-7-syllable form, by Emperor Meiji, whose spirit is enshrined at Meiji Jingu.

It is hoped that the poem's message, based on the traditional Shinto ethics, will have particular meaning for you.
